

That you tend to forget
All of us with a disability.

Where is the information about what floor it's on, is there an elevator?

Can we even get inside if our wheelchair,
or other aid is just ONE cm too wide?

Can we sit at the table?

Can we piss in a place that isn't covered in piss?

And in general inaccessible without a carer?

We are not a small part of the community

We have sexualities, genders and experiences too.

And we want to be included!

Are you all out of ideas, then ask us!

INCLUDE US

View us as equal human beings...

(For anything regarding this piece, not the topic,

Find me on ig/fb: @js_chronic_creations)

Dearily beloved queer community

This is not someone being mad,

or even dissatisfied, just really fucking tired

Tired of when "you" big organizations, groups and places
invite us to be together in a safe, open space.